ABOUT

Suswana Chowdhury commisioned a capsule of T-shirts designed to serve as a fundraising effort to benefit vulnerable women & children in Rajasthan affected by COVID-19 to help them secure food sustainability

Suswana's prompt to the designers was to capture her quote "flowers grow out of dark moments" in the designs and because it resonated with my ebb & flow in life as well, I wanted to capture the sense of control that I have realized that I possess in these situations - to create the path forward and to cremate my darker thoughts

The typography in the design features Kabir Das's 'doha,' or couplet which likens the perseverance of the human spirit to 'oil in a seed and like fire in flintstone.'

We host our wildest dreams
